

Dear Sir or Madam,

I am a native Spanish speaker from Mexico. I am a second year Ph.D. research in the area of Human-Robot Interaction. I believe that by being accepted as a translator of English to Spanish language my skills as a professional will be strongly enriched. The reason for that are the following:

- I have high reliability for excellent time management since beside the PhD research that I am developing a outreach workshop for kids to teach robotics.
- I am native Speaker, I like new challenges, I am a highly reliable person, I do whatever I put in my mind.

All in all, I need money.

Yours faithfully,

Miguel Xochicale
